The officers also claim that the men have been stealing stock and running it into Nelson's possession. Nelson is estimated to be worth $500,000. Nelson gave bail and will be examined in February. The others waived examination and will be tried at the next term of court.

DECISION AGAINST DOWIE.

Loses Every Point in His Contention with Stevenson Over Lace-Mak-Ing Industries.

Chicago, Feb. 1.-Judge Tuley, in decision rendered Friday, appointed Elmer Washburn receiver for the Dowie lace industries and ruled against the shrewd faith healer in almost every contention raised in the suit brought by his brother-inlaw, Samuel Stevenson. The chancel- that heathen noimejeski of yourself," picked up. lor held that the agreement entered into by Dowie and Stevenson on the night of August 4, 1900, wherein Dowie gained control of the Englishman's property, was void on the ground of undue influence, and that by Stevenson to be the true agreement, was a valid instrument.

The court denounced the business and religious methods of Dowie and declared him guilty of questionable methods in his dealings with Stevenson. The decision deals with practically every phase of Zion, and in every important point Dowie's methods are found to be "tainted with fraud." His claim to being an agent of the Almighty is scored, and his financial credulity, avarice and blind faith.
